What questions did you have about the lab?

I asked whether my code would delete if there is an error. Prof. told me that the github will tell me where my error is if I have one. Originally when I launched the website it did not work. This is because I did not create a lab01 folder to hold the information.

What was the hardest part of the lab?

I did not find anything too difficult about the lab. The most difficult would probably be making sure everything is typed in correctly with spacing, lower cases etc.
